Photo contest

On May 1, the city begins the tenth year of the "15 Days in May" photo contest with an increase in prize money and a new category: the Mayor's Image of Health—in support of the city's mission to improve fitness and wellness. For each of the six entry categories, the prize money has increased to $1,000 first prize, $500 second prize and $250 third prize. For the first time, the city will accept up to two entries from contestants: one photo can be an extraordinary image of a subject in West Sacramento—based on whether the photographer is a resident, nonresident or works in West Sacramento. The other photo can be entered in the new Mayor's Image of Health category. This photo must depict healthy lifestyles, fitness and wellness. All photos entered in the contest must be focused on West Sacramento. Contestants can enter one or both categories.

The contest is open to amateur photographers only. The contest ends May 15. There is no cost to enter the "15 Days in May" contest.

An independent team of photography professionals, community organizations and business art professionals will help select the top photos in each category. Photos are judged on the basis of originality, visual appeal, and composition.

The City Council will present the 2008 winners in the Council Chambers in June.

For more information, visit the city website (www.cityofwestsacramento.org). The contest is presented by the city of West Sacramento in association with Carwen Printers, The News Ledger, the West Sacramento Press, and 15th Street Fitness.

Diver finds car, with victim in it

KATHRYN BUCKLEY
Missing, with her car, since 2006 -- found on Monday along the southern Yolo riverfront

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

A submerged body found Monday south of West Sacramento may belong to a Sacramento woman missing for almost two years.

"On Monday, a salvage diver was working in the water south of Clarksburg at 403405 River Road," reported Yolo County Public Information Officer Michelle Wallace. "He came upon a 2004 blue Hyundai car. The car contained the remains of a human. The person was no longer strapped in, and the car was full of mud."

Late Tuesday, Wallace said the coroner's office had tentatively identified the victim as Kathryn Renee Buckley, a 49-year old Sacramento resident reported missing in May of 2006. Buckley's car registration, purse, wallets, credit cards and other belongings were found in the submerged car.

After an autopsy yesterday, Buckley's cause of death is listed as "probable drowning" in an accident. Her family has been notified.

Final identification is expected when DNA tests are returned in about six months, said Sheriff Ed Prieto.

Buckley was last seen around 10:30 p.m. on May 12 near Florin Road and East Parkway in Sacramento.

$200k for clean-up

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

West Sacramento has received a $200,000 grant from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency to help clean up the city's "Tower Court" property at 815 West Capitol Avenue. Before being acquired by the city redevelopment property, the site had been home to uses including an adult bookstore and an auto repair facility.

Lead contamination in the soil is believed to have resulted from years of unauthorized trash-dumping, said Aaron Laurel of the City of West Sacramento.

The city plans to clean up 750 cubic yards of soil to help make way for "redevelopment" of the property as a mixed-use project including over 100 urban homes, plus retail and office space.

The site is across the street from the former Experience Motel. That former adult motel has also been acquired by the city – and was burned earlier this month as a practice project for local firefighting departments.

Satellite technology helps track high-risk offenders

From Beth Gabor
Public Information Officer
County of Yolo

Recently, the Yolo County Probation Department started using Global Positioning System satellites (GPS) paired with radio frequency monitoring to supervise high-risk offenders in the community. This new capability enables the department to locate an offender at any time to within about 50 meters.

Using mapping software available on a secure internet connection, a probation officer can now track the whereabouts of an offender 24 hours a day. The new system alerts the officer via e-mail, text message or telephone if an offender has entered an area specified as off limits.

After the passage of Senate Bill 81 last August, non-violent juvenile offenders have been shifted out of state facilities and returned to the county of their residence. GPS tracking has broadened the supervision and custody options for minors previously under the supervision of the state Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation.

Currently the Yolo County Probation Department is using GPS tracking to supervise one sex offender. It has enabled the department to track where he is on a minute-by-minute basis to protect public safety as he reintegrates into the community.

"Pursuant to Jessica's Law and other state statutes, high risk sex offenders will have to be outfitted with the GPS system starting July 1," said Chief Probation Officer, Don L. Meyer. "The GPS system can be utilized on other offenders as well. This will provide our probation officers the ability to hold offenders more accountable and will enhance public safety. An offender's every movement can be tracked, allowing us to match offender location to any reported crimes in a particular area. It also allows our probation officers to exclude areas that the offender can visit or inhabit."

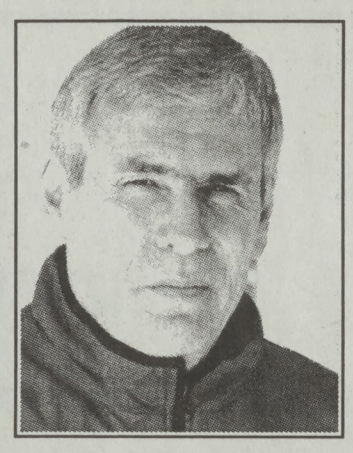
Even 'candy crime' doesn't pay

Editor's note: Daryl is on vacation this week. Below is one of his favorite columns from the past.

My Back Pages



By Daryl Fisher

Last night, my wife walked over to me and whispered, "I think you need to have a little talk with your son."

"Which one?" I whispered back, looking up from the book I was reading.

"Paul."

"What did he do – and why are we whispering?"

"You're not going to believe this," she said, slowly shaking her head with disappointment, "but he apparently took a couple of candy bars from the store and didn't pay for them."

"Paul?" I asked in amazement, sure she meant Ty, my oldest son, who is always getting into some kind of trouble. "How did you find out?"

"Ty squealed on him."

"Why did he do that?" I asked suspiciously, knowing that Ty's sense of right and wrong is still more or less in the developmental stages.

"Because Paul refused to give him one of the candy bars."

After I had assured my wife that I would take care of the matter, I found myself thinking all the way back to a very hot August day in the summer of 1961. I was only 13-years old at the time when me and one of my best friends – who shall remain nameless because he still lives in West Sacramento and is a very respected member of the community – decided to go into downtown Sacramento and do some very early Christmas shopping at the old Payless store on K Street. We also decided that since we didn't have any money, we weren't going to pay for anything.

The plan we came up with made so much sense when we first concocted it, but things quickly started to go downhill. For starters, the full-length black trench coats we were wearing seemed to draw everyone's unwanted attention to us. My friend had suggested we would need them to help hide and haul all of our loot, but it was a 100 degree day and by the time we walked into the store, we were definitely over-dressed and sweating like pigs.

As we went from aisle to aisle and slyly collected makeup compacts, bottles of inexpensive perfume and other potential Christmas gifts, my friend and I were beginning to clank with our every step, so we decided it was time to call it a day and head on back to West Sac. It wasn't until we had taken a couple of steps out of the store that we finally realized that our once seemingly foolproof plan had a few very big holes in it.

Two men in black suits grabbed us from behind and unceremoniously yanked us back into the store. Then they rushed us up a flight of steps and deposited us in chairs in a tiny room where they apparently had been watching our every move through big sheets of two-way glass. They made us empty our pockets – which took awhile – and admit that we were low-life potential gangsters.

"And now you get to take a little ride down to the police station," announced one of the seemingly gleeful men in suits as the box of caramel corn I had had for lunch began to work its way up into my throat.

With everyone from blocks around watching us as we were handcuffed and loaded into the back of a black and white police car, I swore to my friend that my life of crime was now officially over – forever. "And my dad is going to kill me!" I added with genuine dread.

A giant of a police officer with a huge, shiny gun strapped to his side escorted me into the police station and took me down this long hallway to get fingerprinted. With that humiliating experience over, I was herded down another brightly lit hallway and shoved into a holding cell with some of the meanest looking men I had ever seen in my life. The one with the most tattoos seemed to take an immediate liking to me and strolled over and put his colorful arm around my shoulder. There wasn't a doubt in my mind that he was a mass murderer of young boys approximately my age.

"So, what'd they get you for, sonny?" he asked me, his voice almost as hard as the expression on his bearded face.

"Well," I finally managed to get out, "I....I stole a bottle of Aqua Velva."

The whole place seemed to explode in laughter and I quickly found myself a little corner of the cell where I could be left alone with my thoughts, none of which were very comforting.

And then, about 30 minutes later, the worst part of the whole miserable day happened. My dad, with tears in his eyes, showed up to sign some papers and take me home. His disappointment in me was so obvious and so complete that he didn't even have to verbalize it.

"This is never to happen again – ever! Do you understand me?" he finally said as he drove me over the old "I" Street Bridge and back into West Sacramento. I nodded my head that I understood and mercifully, the subject was never brought up again.

"Paul!" I yelled. "Get your butt in here! Now!"

"I guess Mom told you, huh?" my son asked me as he reluctantly immerged from his room and made eye contact with me.

"That sweet tooth of yours is going to be the death of you yet, you know that?"

"I'm sorry – really."

"What in the world were you thinking, anyway?"

"I don't know. But it won't happen again. I promise."

"Well, you better make sure it doesn't! And not only are you on restriction for the next month, but I'm thinking that your little candy crime might make a pretty good newspaper column, too."

He contritely lowered his head and nodded that he understood, but I was pretty sure I heard a little sigh of relief, no doubt pretty confident that he could make it through a whole month of restriction without too much trouble, and that his mother would never allow me to tell the whole town about his candy crime.

Canine distemper found

From the County of Yolo

The Yolo County Sheriff's Department, Animal Services Section has an urgent message for the public. The Yolo County Animal Shelter has identified its first definitive case of Canine Distemper.

Distemper is an airborne single-stranded RNA virus that affects dogs. There is no danger to other pet animals, or to humans, but it has been known to be carried by raccoons. It often begins with a cough or runny nose, resembling kennel cough. But instead of getting better distemper, having a four to six week incubation period, progresses to an illness that invades multiple body symptoms. This disease is preventable if you have your dog vaccinated for distemper, part of the DHPP vaccine commonly recommended by veterinarians. Vaccinations usually cost from ten to sixty-three dollars.

The diseased dog at the shelter was first diagnosed with kennel cough, due to the symptoms found by Animal Services veterinary staff and lab work done by UC Davis Veterinary School. Within the last few weeks symptoms have increased, and the disease has now spread to other dogs in the Animal Shelter. Once the disease was diagnosed in the shelter, a task force was established to look for solutions. The task force includes veterinarians from the University of California, Davis Shelter Medicine Program, along with staff and volunteers of the Animal Shelter. The seventy-two dogs in the shelter have been quarantined into risk populations and are undergoing testing to determine any level of risk.

Sheriff Prieto stated, "We're fortunate to have one of the few shelters in California that has a veterinary staff on the premises, and to have the services of UC Davis veterinarians, along with a dedicated Animal Services staff to quickly contain and eliminate this outbreak and to soon bring the shelter back to a normal status."

Yolo County Animal Services is unable to receive any dogs from the public for the next two weeks. In case of an emergency, please contact the shelter at (530) 668-5287 for further instructions. This will allow the shelter ample time to manage the current canine population. In addition, the shelter temporarily close the night deposit boxes.

Shelter veterinary staff stated, "It is extremely important for pet owners to have your dogs vaccinated as part of regular care for your pet. Keep your pet on a nutritious diet; give it exercise and ample fresh air."

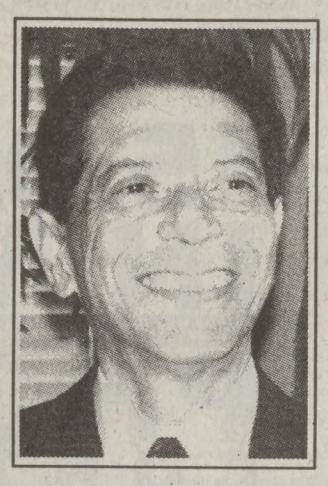
SPORTS INSIDER

By Richard Novoa



By Richard Novoa

The NBA playoffs are heating up going into the second week of action especially with the eighth seeded Atlanta Hawks giving the mighty Boston Celtics all they can handle. Mike Bibby scored 18 points to lead the Hawks to 97-92 victory in game four to even the series at two games apiece. The trash talking between these two teams just went up another level.

The 76ers are also making life miserable for the heavily favored Detroit Pistons (2-2) as their series comes down to the best of three series while the Orlando Magic ended their 12-year drought by advancing to the second round of the playoffs by taking care of Toronto in five games. In the final match up in the Eastern Conference, King James and his Cavaliers have the Wizards on the ropes leading the series 3-1 as of Tuesday.

In the Western Conference, the Lakers put a mugging on the Denver Nuggets sweeping their series while the Utah Jazz have the Rockets on the verge of elimination and the new kids on the block, the New Orleans Hornets (3-1), are one game away from sending Mark Cuban and his Mavs on another early vacation.

The match up that puzzles me the most is the Spurs and Suns series with San Antonio leading 3-1 with game four set for Tuesday in San Antonio. The defending champion San Antonio Spurs had the Suns down 3-0 and had the broom in hand until the Suns managed to salvage a win on Sunday in Phoenix. No NBA team has come back to win a series! I guess I missed this one by a mile; I really like the Suns to win the NBA title this year!

Diamond Notes

San Francisco began the season with losses in six of its first seven games, but have won 10 of 19 since to get to 11-15 on the year, a game and half game better than the Rockies (10-15) and Padres. But the G-Men have a big problem to resolve with their million dollar man Barry Zito.

The Giants got yet another poor outing from the $126-millon left arm of Barry Zito. Zito (0-6) was roughed up for eight runs on seven hits and three walks over three innings, raising his earned run average to 7.53.

The Giants are demoting Zito to the bullpen to work on his velocity and confidence. Zito's fastball or lack of a fastball is being clocked around 84 to 86 miles per hour which can get you in trouble even in the minor leagues.

The A's (16-10) received another outstanding performance from ex-River Cats pitcher Joe Blanton. Blanton (2-4) pitched seven solid innings, long enough for Oakland's offense score four times in the eighth inning to rally for a 4-2 win over the Mariners on Sunday.

Emil Brown finally got Oakland on the board with a broken-bat, two-run single, and Jack Cust and Ryan Sweeney added RBI singles inning as the A's took two of three from the Mariners.

Huston Street pitched the ninth for his eighth save in nine opportunities. He also got the save Friday night as Oakland took two of three from its AL West rival. The A's also signed veteran first baseman, Frank Thomas, to add a little pop to the DH spot. San Francisco Giants will begin a three-game series with Colorado at AT&T Park while the first place Athletics now head south for a key series with the Los Angeles Angels, surprisingly tied with the A's in the AL West.

NFL Draft

The Oakland Raiders hit a home run with their team's first-round selection of Arkansas running back Darren McFadden. He should compliment JaMarcus Russell job at quarterback and will join Justin Fargas and LaMont Jordan in the Silver and Black attack. The Raiders released running back Dominic Rhodes on Monday to room for their new star running back. Almost, makes you want to join the Raiders Nation – Almost!

The Niners used their first round pick (No.29th) to select North Carolina defensive tackle or nose guard Kentwan Balmer to patch up the hole in the defensive line. The 49ers, who allowed the second most sacks last season, needed some linemen on both sides of the ball so they decided on selecting play guard Chilo Rachal, a second- rounder out of USC, and center Cody Wallace, a fourth-round pick out of Texas A&M.

Between the Ropes

Just in case you're interested in some boxing action, Oscar De La Hoya will be boxing on Saturday night at the Home Depot Center in Carson, Ca. against Steve Forbes.

The event will take place from 3:30 - 4:30 p.m. with the awards announced at 4:00 p.m. The museum is located at 324 Third Street in the Broderick district of West Sacramento and the exhibition will run through May 31, 2008.

The exhibition was coordinated with Joe Schumacher, an art instructor at River City High School, the West Sacramento Art Guild and Jim Brewer, Director, of the West Sacramento Historical Society Museum and Visitors Center. Nineteen students provided twenty artworks (watercolors, color and graphite pencil drawings and photographs) which were juried on Monday, April 28. The Art Guild received a City of West Sacramento Mini-Grant which was used to fund the exhibition. Eleven gift certificates were purchased from University Art in Sacramento for the top eleven winners. There are three winners in each of the first, second and third categories plus one winner each in the fourth and fifth categories. All the other students received a Participation Award. Works in the exhibition were selected from three River City High School art classes which included students from the Freshman through Senior levels. Everyone is welcome to attend the ceremony and visit the museum.

The hours for the museum are Thursday thru Sundays, 11:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. Admission is free. Refreshments will be provided by the Art Guild. exhausting three-set matches in the #1 singles positions, with Tipton losing and Ionova winning. In #2 singles contests, Jim Saetern won 6-4,6-1 and Lydia Maystruk came through 6-2,6-2. The visiting Raiders swept all five doubles matches, led by Cindy Yang and Yian Saetern's 10-0 shutout at #1 girls doubles. The other doubles scores were: Chris Salazar and Thomas Thao 10-7 at #1 boys; Dipak Patel and Tou Vang 10-6 at #2 boys; Svetlana Istomin and Sarah Aguilar 10-2 at #2 girls; and Tamara Lopatin and Adam Araza 10-5 in mixed.

In the final CVC match again Center, Yang (#1) and Ionova (#2) took the girls singles contests without surrendering a single game between them. On the boys side, Salazar (#1) won 6-4,4-0, as did Jim Saetern (#2) 6-2,6-4. In boys doubles, Tipton teamed with Phi Dinh for a 10-5 win while Thao and Vang won 10-3 at #2. In the girls pairs, Istomin and Aguilar (#1) and the sister duo of Yian and Lai Saetern (#2) both won 10-3, while Patel and Lopatin breezed to a 10-2 win in mixed.

Sandwiched between the two CVC contests was a road match down at Escalon, the undefeated champions of the Trans Valley League, who handed the Raiders their first loss in 2008 with a 6-3 decision. RC could only earn wins at #1 boys doubles where Dinh and Jim Saetern won 10-4, and in the girls doubles matches, where Ionova and Lopatin won 10-5 at #1 and Istomin and Aguilar cruised 10-2 at #2.

Overall, River City is now 19-1 heading into the team playoffs. RC has earned a first round bye with its first place CVC finish, and will host the winner of the Colfax/Marysville match at 3:30 on May 12 in the quarterfinals. In the meantime, the CVC singles and doubles tournament is the next two days at the Natomas Racquet Club, with winners and finalists advancing to next week's Sac-Joaquin Section Division III Tournament at Stockton's Oak Park on May 9th and 10th.

Strange BUT TRUE

By Samantha Weaver

• It was author and Pulitzer Prize-winning humorist Dave Barry who made the following sage observation: "Although golf was originally restricted to wealthy, overweight Protestants, today it's open to anybody who owns hideous clothing."

• If the paint on your house is starting to peel or fade and you're dreading the expense and trouble of repainting, you might consider yourself lucky if you remember this: When it comes time for the exterior of the White House to get spruced up, it takes 570 gallons of paint.

• The oldest woman on record to give birth was 65 years old when she became pregnant.

• For more proof that the Germans have a word for everything, consider "weltschmerz," a word used to describe the feeling of melancholy that comes from reflecting on the state of the world. A more literal translation is "world pain."

• You're almost certainly familiar with duct tape, that ubiquitous silver adhesive that comes in giant rolls and sometimes seems capable of fixing anything. It was originally developed as a waterproof sealing tape for ammunition cases in World War II, but was later used to seal heating and air conditioning ducts — whence its name. Ironically, experts now say that while duct tape has many uses, it doesn't actually work very well to seal ducts.

• Have you ever felt like your pet was really communicating to you — almost talking? Well, a company in Japan wants to help you understand what your cat is saying. It invented a device called the Meowlingual, which purportedly translates the meows of a cat into human language.

• If you've ever been to a formal wedding reception, you probably saw a receiving line, that traditional greeting of each guest by the bride, the groom and their families. Though it's considered to be the proper thing to do, it can sometimes seem to go on and on and on. If you think that's tedious, though, consider the plight of those who get married in Indonesia, where the tradition of the receiving line is firmly entrenched: There, it's not uncommon to have more than 1,000 guests attend, and the bride and groom must greet each one before the festivities can even start.

Finch Feeding

A sure way to bring American goldfinches into your yard is to feed them thistle (nyjer) seed. You can fill a thistle tube feeder, put it in a tray or simply sprinkle it onto the ground. Finches love this oily seed and will keep coming back for more.

THE YOLO INDEPENDENT FRIDAY, AUGUST 23, 1918.

Tuesday, if current gossip has any foundation around Washington," said one of the old timers yesterday. "The Woodland politicians believe that Washington is not worth their while and the people here are sick of their treatment. Around election time the Woodland vote-hunters are just as nice as pie, and then they forget that Washington is on the map for four years. You watch the returns next Tuesday and I'll bet you will see some surprises."

"Some of the county candidates have not been here at all and some seemed to be afraid to talk to the voters. One would think they were afraid of us. We have nearly 700 votes in this district and it is the balance of power in the county yet we couldn't get a county office if we paid for it. We never could get anything in Woodland.

"I believe that those who are cock-sure of election next Tuesday will get left and for my part I am going to vote for a complete stranger rather than for some of those who have been elected and then forget we in Washington are alive.

"I hate an ingrate and he can never get my vote. I am not surprised that lots of people are talking annexation to Sacramento. That's where we belong by right and Woodland politicians are helping the game.

"Me for annexation to Sacramento as soon as the question comes up."

Mrs. Belle Parkinson has received request from Mrs. Pearl Ericson, Coast President of the Parent-Teachers' Association asking that ladies of the association give a few hours of their time during Fair week in Sacramento to the care of a nursery that is established in the Fair buildings. Many young children will be at the Fair and the association wants a place to care for them properly. Any lady desiring to give part of her time to this work should report to Mrs. Parkinson so that the work may be arranged systematically. Ladies from other adjacent towns will also take a hand in this work.

A bad runaway took place yesterday afternoon on the S. P. bridge which happily ended without serious results. Becoming scared a horse took the bit in his teeth at the top of the incline and raced to Third street. There a freight train was passing and the driver turned north. Near the Town Hall the driver was thrown out and the horse and wagon continued to be stopped on the levee north of Rocky Point. The driver was not badly hurt.

Mrs. Belle Parkinson returned from Santa Cruz last Saturday after serving as Assistant Great Keeper of Records for the Great Council of the Degree of Pocahontas for a week.

J. Kennedy was sent to Woodland for 30 days last Wednesday by Judge Barry on a charge of vagrancy.

John Sanchez was sentenced to 60 days on the same day on a similar charge but of a more aggravated case.

For stealing watermelons G. Lattery was sent to Woodland for 30 days last Monday on a charge sworn to by Jim Grace. Lattery was found with the goods on him and pleaded guilty.

Malicious mischief is the only way to class the damage done last Wednesday evening to the Hauser property next to the Postoffice. The door was dragged from its hinges and a rock was thrown through the glass front. There was apparently no reason for the damage, except malicious mischief.

Mrs. Mabel Peterson and daughter Marie are at home after a week's vacation in San Francisco.

John Allerton and little daughter are in San Francisco for a short visit.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Eugene are at home after several days spent at San Leandro.

Mrs. Fred Moser and daughter spent Saturday and Sunday in Loomis.

Mr. and Mrs. William Vaughn have taken up their permanent residence in Riverbank.

Rev. J. Lowes and family are at home from Santa Cruz after a two weeks' vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Kiff and Ardella Manchester returned from Dillon's Beach and Bodega Bay last Monday, where they spent two weeks' vacation.

Mrs. Flora Knox, who has been spending this past summer in Washington and Sacramento, left yesterday for the Eastern States, with the probability that she will make her future home there. During her visit here, she was a guest of several local families who are sorry to see her leave.

IMPROVEMENT CLUB'S CONSIDERATION OF CHANGE OF NAME POSTPONED

ADVICE OF CONGRESSMAN CURRY EXPECTED SOON REGARDING ANY ASSISTANCE HE MAY BE ABLE TO OFFER THE CLUB

At the meeting of the Washington Improvement Club last Tuesday evening, it was decided to postpone any action the members of the club might take concerning a change in the name of the postoffice or town until word could be received from Congressman Curry as to what assistance he might be able to render in the matter.

Discussing the subject quietly the members of the club expressed themselves again as being non-antagonistic to the name "Broderick," but at the same time desiring a name that would apply to the town, the postoffice and the district.

It is the confusion of names to which the people object, not to the name "Broderick." It is the belittling effect this confusion of names brings that objection is raised.

When Yolo County was divided into political units, the district was named Washington and so remained for several years. Gradually the town built up, more residents coming and more homes being established as time rolled by.

Unfortunately, Washington, Nevada County, a large mining center in the foothills of the Sierras, secured the name "Washington" for its postoffice and since that time retained that name without interruption.

Probably three times as many people make their homes in Washington district, Yolo County, as there are in Washington, Nevada County. Yet the postoffice authorities will not allow the name to be repeated as a name for a postoffice.

Word from Congressman Curry is expected any day by the club, when it is probable definite action will be taken on the question.

The offer that had been made some time ago to the Improvement Club for its piano in the Town Hall was shown to be a fake. The party making the offer had no authority to do so, hence the decision reached last Tuesday was to permit the club's piano to remain in the Town Hall as part of the equipment of the building.

Some time ago it was rumored that the Fire Commissioners intended to place another piano in the building that would be free to all comers and an inducement for renting the hall. The Commissioners are reluctant on this question and advise that they had not finally decided to go to the expense of purchasing a piano as long as that owned by the Improvement Club is in the premises.

This question was dropped until something definite could be learned as to what the intentions of the Fire Commissioners would be on the subject.

In regard to the repairs now being made to the roadway leading west from the S. P. bridge, the club signified its complete approval but also desired that before the improvement could be made, the low spots between Third and Fourth and Fourth and Fifth streets should be filled on a level with the S. P. tracks.

Knowing the condition of railroad traffic at this moment and the great demand for railroad cars, it seemed impossible to secure the necessary filling for these low spots and therefore it was passed to some future time.

Resolutions of sympathy were ordered drawn to be sent to the Norton family on the loss sustained by it in the death of Almer Norton, the first native of Washington to fall in his country's cause.

A number of preachers are reported to be touring the State in the interest of the Rominger Bill.

From that fact, it is safe to infer that the Rominger Bill is rotten, immoral and dangerous.

Jill Jackson's HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD ... Nicole Kidman had a rocky marriage with Tom Cruise, but now it seems she's happily settled in with country singer Keith Urban, and they are expecting a child. She also has committed to playing Valerie Plame, the CIA agent illegally outed by the powers-that-be. The Urbans have just purchased a 5,600 square-foot mansion in the Brentwood area of L.A. The main house has five bedrooms, four bathrooms, glass walls, a view of the whole city, a koi pond and is at the end of a cul-de-sac, giving them great privacy. Nicole also owns two homes in Sydney, Australia. So, I would say she's doing quite well, wouldn't you? ... And, to Emily P. of Fort Myers, Fla.: I do not know the relationship between Tom and Katie, and Nicole and Keith, but I do know the children Tom and Nicole adopted spend time with Nicole and time with Tom.

Producer-director Oliver Stone is making a biopic about President Bush (the current one) titled "W." Josh Brolin is set to play "W," and Elizabeth Banks will portray first lady Laura Bush. Banks certainly has the brains for the role; she graduated magna cum laude from the University of Pennsylvania. The film shoots in Shreveport, La. Usually a film is made about a prominent person after they have "departed." One wonders how Stone will end this one?

If you like a scary read, try Manda Scott's "The Crystal Skull" (Delacorte). It's about the old Mayan prophecy that the world will end on Dec. 21, 2012, unless 13 crystal skulls are found and brought together. These life-sized skulls, according to archeologists, are made from quartz and other precious stones, and are thought to possess mystical healing powers and the ability to avert world disasters. The book features two skull keepers, centuries apart. One is an Elizabethan physician, the other a modern Cambridge scholar. They have possessed the same skull, carved from sapphire.

Oliver Stone

BITS 'N' PIECES: The real name of that Perez Hilton who dishes showbiz news on the tube is Mario Lavandeira. ... That other Hilton, name of Paris, has been low-keyed for some time. Let's hope she keeps it that way. Ditto Lindsay and Britney. ... Sally Field's love interest in the film "Punchline" was Tom Hanks. Six years later, she played his mother in "Forrest Gump." ... A belated farewell to Charlton Heston. I knew him well. He was a devoted husband and father, a fine actor, always the gentleman, and a loving friend. Aloha, Chuck!

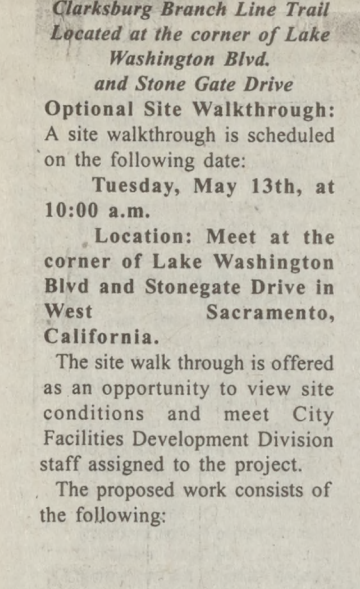
Fave Foods OF THE FAMOUS

by Steven Austin



Theo Kogan

Theo Kogan is the former lead singer of the all-female band the Lunachicks, and now plays in the band Theo & The Skyscrapers. Blessed with a great voice and looks, Kogan has been in the fashion and music industry for more than a decade doing campaigns for Calvin Klein, Courvoisier and Rimmel, as well as lots of fashion editorial and runway work. In addition to being one of New York City's hottest DJs and party planners, she is a budding business mogul who is about to launch a new lip gloss and makeup line called Armour Cosmetics with partner Allison Burns. The line will launch this year. To learn more: myspace.com/theo; www.armourbeauty.com; moli.com/theo.

You're at the edge of contemporary trends. So what are the trendy foods and drinks right now?

"In food, I think it seems like Asian fusion is hot. Thai-Vietnamese combos or Thai-Japanese combos. I've noticed vodka martinis being very 'in' as well as pomegranate juice in everything. But to me, it's always about champagne!"

And what city is hotter for them, NYC or LA?

"I think LA is a little hotter on the food fusion. As for the martinis, I've noticed more in NYC so far."

You see more and more "plus size" models these days. If you had to gain a quick 10 pounds for a major fashion campaign, how would you do it?

"That could be really fun! I would have to be making a lot of money in order to gain or to lose 10 pounds. I am a vegetarian bordering on vegan, so I might cheat a bit with some cheese. I'd eat a lot of sweets, like donuts, cupcakes, and mac and cheese, especially the soy cheese kind. Also, I make a mean vegan chocolate-chip cookie. I would never eat meat though. I never crave it and wouldn't EVER eat it to gain or lose weight."

Ever worn an outfit that was made partly out of food?

"I have worn many a candy necklace and candy rings. I have worn rubber fried eggs on a stage costume. Does that count?"

Can you compare writing music to cooking?

"Well, yes, it is definitely a form of self expression and requires inspiration. And when it doesn't come out the way you imagined, you have to try again!"

TOFU FILETS

1 or 2 large squares of firm tofu
1/2 to 1 cup cornmeal
1/2 to 1 cup nutritional yeast
Salt, black pepper, cayenne pepper, parsley — all to taste
Cold water
1/2 to 1 cup white or wheat flour
1 lemon
1 jar of veganaise, nayonaise or tartar sauce

Preheat oven to 375 F, and oil a baking sheet or large baking pan. Slice tofu into thin, long slices. Put cornmeal and yeast together in a bowl and mix with a large spoon so it is evenly distributed. Add spices to taste. You will batter the tofu with this mixture.

Dip each slice of tofu in the water then in flour, making sure it is covered and wet enough. Then put right into the dry mixture bowl and get it all over both sides of tofu pieces. Place them with space between each slice on baking sheet or in pan. Bake until lightly brown on top.

Remove from pan immediately after baking. Serve with lemon slice to squeeze on top, and spread veganaise or tartar sauce on slice. Serve with rice and a salad or another green veggie that you like. Kale sauteed with fresh garlic is a nice complement. Leftovers are delicious for sandwiches the next day!

Such attorney should be consulted promptly so that your pleading may be filed or entered within the time required by this Summons.

DETAILED SUMMARY OF THE MATTER THAT PLAINTIFFS SEEK TO VALIDATE:
Plaintiffs AUTHORITY and CITY seek to stimulate the development of Plaintiff CITY's downtown into a vibrant riverfront community that is a regional destination by building a hotel on land near the right bank of the Sacramento River directly across from Old Sacramento. In the transactions that plaintiffs' governing bodies approved at their March 19, 2008, meetings, plaintiff AUTHORITY would issue up to $250,000,000 in lease-revenue bonds, and plaintiff CITY and plaintiff AUTHORITY would enter into the Indenture, the Lease Agreement, and the Assignment Agreement for the purpose of financing the acquisition of the land, which is located within CITY's boundaries, and the construction of a hotel and related infrastructure thereon. The AUTHORITY would construct and own the hotel. The hotel development would include a public parking facility, public meeting rooms and conference rooms, public restrooms, and public restaurants and bars. The CITY would lease the hotel from the AUTHORITY and would operate the hotel. When all of the Bonds were fully paid and retired, the City would own the hotel development.

Gladys L. Hewitt
CASE NUMBER PB08-72

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of Gladys L. Hewitt:

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by Paul Ruhkala in the Superior Court of California, County of Yolo.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that Paul Ruhkala be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

The petition requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held in this court as follows: May 12, 2008 at 9:00 a.m. in Dept 1, Superior Court of California, County of Yolo, 725 Court St., Woodland CA 95695, Probate Branch.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the deceased, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within four months from the date of first issuance of letters as provided in Probate Code section 9100. The time for filing claims will not expire before four months from the hearing date noticed above.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a "Request for Special Notice" (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A "Request for Special Notice" form is available from the court clerk.
